

READING COMPREHENSION

Read the summary of the book Archer's Voice and answer the questions.

Bree Prescott arrives in the small town of Pelion, Maine, hoping to find the peace she desperately needs after a traumatic experience. There, she encounters Archer Hale, a man who lives in isolation and has not spoken a word to anyone in years. Unlike the other townspeople, who avoid or misunderstand him, Bree is determined to see beyond Archer's silence. As they communicate through sign language and shared moments, they discover that sometimes the loudest messages are the ones left unsaid

- 1 Why did Bree Prescott decide to move to the town of Pelion?

- 2 How does the community usually treat Archer Hale?

- 3 What "method" Bree and Archer use to communicate with each other?
